www.doexcursion.com

The image shows the top section of the Do Excursions website. On the left is the 'doexcursion' logo. On the right are links for 'About Us', 'Terms', 'Privacy Policy', and a shopping cart icon. Below these is a search bar with a location dropdown set to 'Australia', a date/time dropdown set to '04/11/20 - 04/11/20', and a search button. The main visual is a woman in a straw hat and sunglasses looking at a tablet, with a scenic view of a coastal town in the background. The text 'Do Excursions in Style' is prominently displayed. At the bottom of this section is a navigation bar with 'Explore' and 'Near You' buttons, and a list of filters: '< Full Day ($32)', 'Flexible (145)', 'Half-day Afternoon (11)', and 'Half-day Mo. >'. A tagline 'Finest handicapped experiences for the best price' is also visible.

THE CONCEPT

Silentium international Designers closely look in to the User Interfaces of the BIO Medical Concepts globally, and took major ideas from all over the websites and their approaches to provide suitable interface to the subject by giving it an identity to feel the customer that they are buying a product which has a professional medical touch by the qualified dermatologists to give the best they could on this challenging requirement of this world, to be young!

FEATURED PRODUCT

The featured product of the MelaCellular® will be positioned on the top of the website to welcome the customer and also there can be multiple products lined up as a web slider according to the offers and promotions that you will be planning to do.

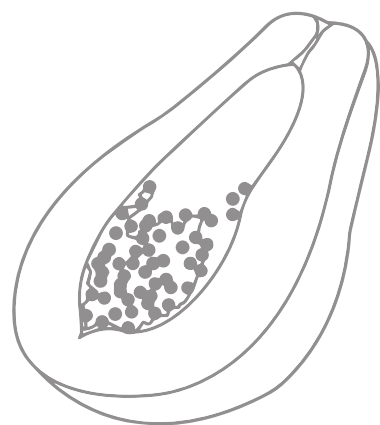

RESOURCES

We have used sample images and custom designed demo products to build this website for MelaCellular® to get you the actual feeling for what you are providing to the market in the future. By the imagination of our designers, we have used the scrub types and its bottle designed to get the realistic feeling of the product that a customer would go forward and read more about it.

STIMULUS

We have given our extra input to get the science out of the design and get the user know that these products are not just ordinary cosmetic solution. These products are a creation of MelaCellular® which gives a medicinal value and a perfect balance of the nature and science where meets together in a laboratory made by a group of professionals.

STUDIES

Designers of Silentium International went through several websites which has unique touch of its products, top class products in Europe & Australia to study how they have present the hidden values of the products. Most of the creators made sure that the website should give a simple but professional presentation in the browser.

CONTRAST

Contrast practice integrated to the design elements look different from each other in order to make the important elements stand out, it also can be used to create a focal point and establish visual interest by manipulating differences

FEWER BORDERS

Giving elements slightly different background colors is usually all you need to create a distinction between them. The easiest way to do this is by dividing up the sections of your page using different color backgrounds.

MINIMALIST LOOK

Minimalistic look creates breathing space for your users. Designers use this concept to create a distinction between its different sections easily. To balance aesthetics with functionality, minimalist Web design is defined by fearless use of space, stunning visuals, striking typography, and an overall focus on the content itself.
